

Take Care of Animals: It's the Law Matching Game

Copy the pages and laminate them if you wish for durability. Cut out the cards. Players complete the sentences. Then they read the sentences, mix the cards, and read the phrases. Cards are self-checking.

Lawmakers pass laws to protect

our furry,
feathered,
scaled, and insect friends.

In 1985, only nine California Condors were alive in the wild.

If you make an ugly face
at a dog in Oklahoma,

a policeman can
make you pay a fine.

In Fairbanks, Alaska, it is illegal to feed alcohol to a moose.

Police can arrest you in Chicago if you

fish in your pajamas.

If you live in Tennessee, you can't use a lasso to catch a fish.

Which state in this story protects insects?

California

Pacific Grove, California is home to what butterfly
sanctuary?

monarch

Lawmakers pass laws to protect animals.

The word illegal means against the law.